

London Met Students' Union

Advice Service Self Help Guide

Self help means to look after yourself in a healthy and positive way. This can come in the form of taking care of your physical health, which in turn will improve your mental health. It can also mean to seek help when you need it.

Check out our 5 top tips for practicing self-help on a day-by-day basis on the page below!

